*Director & Producer
"Good Morning Central Oregon"*

*Good Morning
Central Oregon*

I am a unique individual, in that I am an actual native of Bend, Oregon! I spent several years in California before happily moving back home. I received my Television Production Degree from Mt. Hood Community College and an AA in Fire Science in Santa Ana (I was an EMT for 3 years in Orange County). I have worked as a freelance videographer for many years even doing some work with ESPN2. I am camera operator for a variety of live productions and my specialties are Steady Cam and jib/crane operations. Currently, I am the Director for Good Morning Central Oregon.

When not working, I am never bored. I am in love with the outdoors, kite boarding, hiking, mountain biking, caving and scuba diving, wakeboarding ...I could keep going. I admit it: I am an adrenalin junky. Maybe that's why I love working in TV!

Fun facts: I've traveled all over the world and have bungee jumped out of a hot air balloon 275ft in the air (I'm certain no other member of the COTV staff can say that!)
